

Kimbriki Environmental Enterprises (KEE) has developed an Integrated Management System (IMS) that adopts a risk management approach to safety, environment and quality. We foster a culture of continuous improvement and actively seek ways we can:

- Improve the efficiency of our processes
- Implement safety initiatives for the site to keep our staff and customers safe
- Implement resource recovery solutions to minimise waste to landfill
- Provide regular training to upskill our staff

We are committed to providing a safe and healthy workplace for our staff, contractors and customers, and strive to deliver high-quality services. Our commitment extends to our environmental responsibility. We aim to protect the environment and prevent pollution by conducting works in an environmentally responsible manner. Responsibility

Managers and supervisors are accountable for creating systems and conditions that ensure operations are sustainable. All staff and contractors will be held responsible for anticipating the foreseeable risks associated with any work undertaken and working in a manner that will not cause harm to themselves, their co-workers, others or the environment.

Continuous Improvement

KEE is committed to improving the effectiveness of the IMS by reviewing and auditing the IMS, establishing and monitoring key objectives and targets and by monitoring worker behaviour, providing adequate supervision and fostering a commitment to continuous learning.
